The Plan of the Day
William S. Rosecrans and the Union Victory

This is the first biography of Union General William S. Rosecrans in more than fifty years. It tells the story of his military successes and the important results that led to the Union victory in the Civil War: winning the first major campaign of the war in West Virginia in 1861; victories in northeastern Mississippi that made the Vicksburg Campaign possible; gaining the victory without which Abraham Lincoln said the "nation could scarcely have lived over;" conducting two brilliant campaigns in Tennessee and fighting the battle of Chickamauga (giving permanent possession of Chattanooga to the federals); and defending Missouri from an invasion in 1864. The book also attempts to explain why Rosecrans was removed four times despite his military successes and examines the important part politics played in the war. Additionally it reveals a man who promoted many advances in medical care, transportation, and cartography; a man interested in engineering as well as theology.

JOIN US BEFORE THE MEETING AT SHAPIRO'S DELI!

All ICWRT members and guests are invited to join us at 5:30 P.M. at Shapiro's Delicatessen, 808 S. Meridian St. (just south of McCarty Street) before the meeting to enjoy dinner and fellowship.

Our Guest Speaker

David Moore has been a history guide for over thirty-five years. He specializes in the mid-Atlantic area near his home base of Washington, D.C. He stumbled upon the Rosecrans story quite unexpectedly while searching for the grave of Mary Suratt in Washington's Mt. Olivet cemetery. He spent more than twenty years researching General Rosecrans's military career. His book William S. Rosecrans and the Union Victory was published in March 2014 and is in the collection of over one hundred libraries in the United States, Canada, and several overseas countries.

He will have copies of the book for sale for $25 and will be signing books.

Special Orders

New Book: Ed Bonekemper, our speaker in June 2015, has published a new book: The Myth of the Lost Cause. “The former Confederate states have continually mythologized the South’s defeat to the North, depicting the Civil War as unnecessary, or as a fight over states’ Constitutional rights, or as a David v. Goliath struggle in which the North waged “total war” over an underdog South. In The Myth of the Lost Cause, historian Edward Bonekemper deconstructs this multi-faceted myth, revealing the truth about the war that nearly tore the nation apart 150 years ago.”

Official Records

October Attendance: 20

Alan T. Nolan Memorial Youth Scholarship Fund: The Executive Board of the Indianapolis Civil War Round Table has established this fund to provide membership dues, annual tour expenses or other worthwhile purpose for any full-time student of any age. Please see Tony Roscetti to donate to this fund.

Facebook: The Indianapolis Civil War Round Table is on Facebook. We invite you to join our group. Feel free to post Civil War related messages on our site.

Charitable Sponsors: In an effort to upgrade our speakers and programs, the board of ICWRT is asking members and organizations with which they are involved (companies or charitable organizations) to consider sponsoring one or more speakers. This could be done as a gift now, or a person could opt to make a bequest in a will for that purpose. Because of our limited membership, we can't bring in as many national speakers as we would like to. If you are interested or want more info, call Chris Smith at 450-7430.

Help Sponsor a Meeting: We are accepting donations in increments of fifty dollars to help pay the cost of our monthly rental: $50 (Brigadier General); $100 (Major General); $150 (Lieutenant General); and $200 (General). Those who donate $200 will be given the honor of leading the pledge to the flag before the meeting. Checks should be written to the Indiana Historical Society with "ICWRT" noted in the memo line and given to treasurer Tony Roscetti, so we can keep a record of the donations.

Book Raffle:

Lee: The Last Years, by Charles Bracelton Flood

Four Brothers in Blue, by Robert Goldthwaite Carter

The Gettysburg Campaign, by Edwin B. Coddington

Civil War Command & Strategy: The Process of Victory and Defeat, by Archer Jones

The Soldiers Speak

Quotations from: Wright, John D., ed. The Oxford Dictionary of Civil War Quotations. New York: Oxford University Press, 2006.

U.S. Asst. Secretary of War Charles A. Dana: "The incapacity of the commander [Rosecrans] is astonishing, and it often seems difficult to believe him of sound mind. His imbecility appears to be contagious." (p. 58)

President Abraham Lincoln: "[Rosecrans] is confused and stunned, like a duck hit on the head, ever since Chickamauga." (p. 256)

U.S. General William S. Rosecrans: "I need no other stimulus to make me do my duty than the knowledge of what it is. To threats of removal or the like I must be permitted to say that I am insensible." (p. 346)

William Starke Rosecrans graduated from West Point in 1842. He became major general during his service in the Civil War. Lincoln offered him the position of running as vice president for Lincoln's second term, but his delay in accepting the position led to Andrew Johnson's nomination. He worked in the mining business in Mexico and California, inventing an "odorless oil, a round lamp wick, a short practical lamp chimney, and a new economical method of manufacturing soap." He served as Ambassador to Mexico from 1868 to 1869, represented California in Congress from 1881 to 1885, served as Register of the Treasury from 1885 to 1893. He died in Redondo, California in 1898 and was buried in Arlington Cemetery. Rosecrans National Cemetery in San Diego and Rosecrans Avenue in Los Angeles were named in his honor.
